

STG Board Member, Damian Perl named as one of WashingtonExec's Top 30 Execs to Watch for 2016.

Damian Perl, STG Board Member and Chairman & CEO of Global Strategies Group, has been named as one of WashingtonExec's 'Top 30 Execs to Watch' for 2016 in the government contracting space.

The WashingtonExec initiative, judged by a panel of industry peers, focuses on leaders who are “positioning their businesses for greater growth and relevance ahead.”

Damian was named for having built a “one-man company into a global enterprise” as a leading operator and investor in the national security technology sector. The citation also highlights some of the successful investments he has undertaken, including Global Defense Technology & Systems Inc. (GTEC), and most recently the 2015 merger of STG Inc. with Global Defense & National Security Systems Inc. (GDEF), the public company established by GLOBAL in 2013.

Referring to Damian's most recent investment, WashingtonExec concludes: “Our bet's on STG – and more smart acquisitions ahead.”

Commenting on the citation, Damian Perl said:

“It is always rewarding to receive recognition for what we achieve, and it is particularly pleasing to be recognized by one's peers. Global Strategies Group has a long history of successful ground breaking initiatives that maintain our position at the center of national security priorities. I am proud of the team and of our work that continues to deliver exceptional performance and creates value for all our stakeholders.”
